Monday LO: to design and label.

Today you are going to design your own pair of knickers for the Queen to wear, if she was going to visit our school.
Draw a picture of the knickers and label.

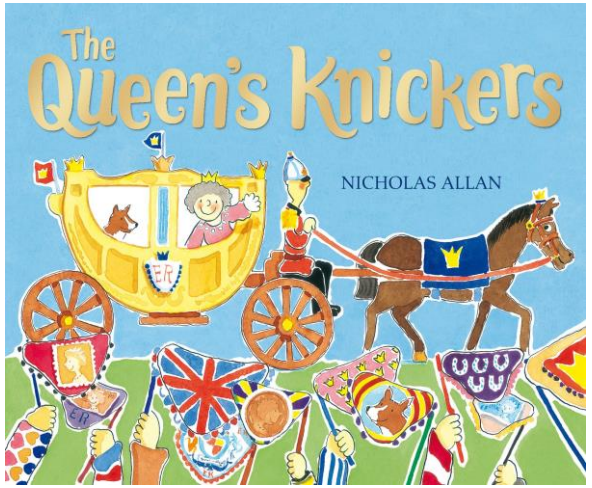

Challenge: Talk to a grown up about why you have designed the knickers in the way that you have. Eg, the school badge to represent the school.

Tuesday LO: to use adjectives.

Today you are going to write sentences to describe the knickers that you designed yesterday. Remember to use lots of adjectives.

Challenge: Can you use two adjectives to describe one part.
Eg, sparkly, green pearls
Remember to use a comma between the two adjectives.

The Queen's knickers are shiny and red. They have silver frills and a magnificent crown on the front.

Wednesday LO: to use question marks.

In the story the Queen visits a school. Imagine if the real Queen was going to visit our school.
Think of questions that you would ask her.
Think of at least 5 questions.

What do you have for breakfast?
What is the best thing about being the Queen?

Challenge: Choose two of your questions and write what you think the answer would be.

Thursday LO: to use conjunctions.

Today is World Book Day!
You can dress up as your favourite book character. Send a picture to your teacher ☺

Today, can you draw a picture of yourself dressed up as your favourite character. Then write about the character. Write about what they look like, what they do and why you like them.

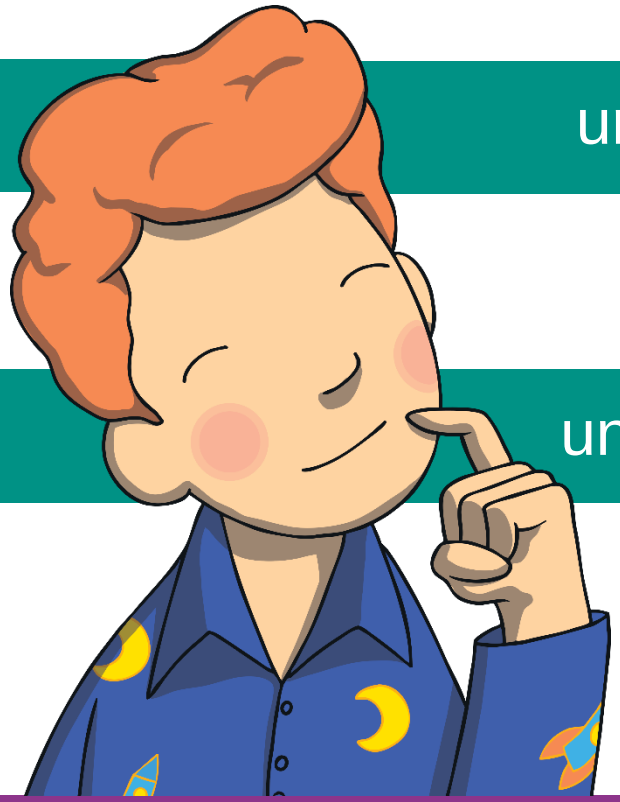

My character is Belle. She has a golden, beautiful dress. I like Belle because she is kind.

Challenge: Can you use two adjectives to describe one thing again in your work?
